Nassau County Development: Understanding New SEQRA Reform Impacts

Source: Long Island Business News (LIBN) | 2026-09-03

New York State's SEQRA reforms provide expedited environmental reviews for select housing projects, streamlining local approval timelines. In Nassau County, this could accelerate multi-family construction and boost inventory over the next 18 to 24 months. Residents are encouraged to monitor municipal planning agendas and review updated Type II lists for projects qualifying near their properties.
